(NYC PSC intends to shift more of burden of Con Ed's elec rates to bulk users, particularly commercial and industrial consumer, and away from residential customer. '73 figures on over - all revenues in each class of consumer indicate that residential customers pay considerably more for each kw-hr than do bulk users, which negotiate rate on contract basis with Con Ed. Elec- heating customers, who pay about half of regular residential rate, are expected to pay less under new rate structure. PSC voted last wk to split utility's pending 29.3% rate increase into 2 phases: ruling on how much of requested $422-million co will receive and ruling on rate-design question. Though Con Ed is expected to receive most of increase in terms of dollars, restructuring of rates will mean residential customers may not face 29.3%

increase (M).)

(Fed energy chief William E Simon announces 2} -a-gal increase in price of gasoline sold by ind retail dealers, which will supersede 1} -a-gal increase granted on Feb 16 for service station owners with less than 85% allocation of '72 supply. Directs suppliers of retail dealers to put all scheduled March price increases into effect by March 1, when price increase for retailers also become effective. Simon also supports minimum purchase requirements that have been instituted by some states as well as plans for staggering hrs that individual stations remain open. Urges states to develop own plans for priority customer treatment at gasoline pumps as long as they are consistent with system described in Emergency Petroleum Act of '73, which forbids stations from discriminating among members of same class of customer. Says Fed officials will work with dealer groups to effect more streamlined procedures for allocation system. Reprs of state dealer groups, who met with Fed officials before announcements were made and some of whom threatened shutdowns if demands were not met, hail Simon's statement (M).)
